CHAPTER 20

Your Miracle Healing

One of the most powerful features of sending your Miracle Healing while Tom is in the Presence of the Generous One, back in the early morning hours of March 29, 2009, is that you receive the gift you have long expected. You receive your own Miracle Healing, multiplied many times over. You may have already figured that out. I've talked about it for decades. Still I cannot emphasize it enough. This is one of the amazing features of this temporal time zone we call home. What you put out comes back multiplied. Because the Earthly experience is fecund. You plant a single kernel to grow a stock of corn yielding multiple ears each producing scores of kernels. Your supply of corn increases, greatly. The same applies to your growth. This is a Universal Law of our time-space continuum. Our actions as well as our thoughts are governed by Universal Laws. Laws as absolute as the Law of Gravity. Because of the Universal Laws of Reciprocation and Multiplication, if you think negative thoughts about someone you get that energy back affecting your life, multiplied. By virtue of those same Laws, when you think good thoughts about someone, you receive back into your life that same positive energy, multiplied many times over.

What To Expect

You sent me a Miracle Healing with a pure heart expecting nothing in return. This is vitally important. Because it is your selfless act of giving that initiates all the healing. Since you sent a healing message to Tom, you have received a Miracle Healing back to you, multiplied. Every time you send a Miracle Healing with no thought of personal gain you receive the same energy back to you. Greater than what you sent.

That is what you feel when you send your gift. You feel the rush of a Miracle Healing washing over you.

OK, you have received a powerful Miracle Healing. Now what? I'm sure you have a whole bunch of questions. Questions like, what should you expect? How soon should you expect it? If you have any current ailments or diseases, how soon should you expect those maladies to heal? Will you make more money or find a better job soon? When will you find your divine complement? Will it help you lose weight? Will you finally gain this relief or that fix? The questions go on forever.

These are all good questions. Questions I cannot answer. Because it's not that kind of healing.

The Miracle Healing, which you have received, has nothing whatsoever to do with healing, as you know it. You think of healing as a ban-aid or a magic pill. Your Miracle Healing is not that. It requires a more mature understanding. It is not fixing something that is broken nor curing something that is diseased. It is not lowering your blood sugar nor keeping you from a heart attack. Of course, all that can clear up in the course of your Miracle Healing depending upon your path. I have lower blood sugar numbers than ever before. In fact, the last time I went to my endocrinologist she said my numbers were so low I wouldn't be diagnosed as having diabetes today. Nine years ago my blood sugar numbers were a countdown to a stroke. Now they look fairly normal. My blood pressure is lower than all of my doctors'. My last reading was 117/61, down from 221/123, which was my reading the morning before my stroke. I'm taking the same medication or less than I was back then. I have gained a great physical healing in the past six years; that is undeniable. I am more centered emotionally than I have ever been. My mental progress is obvious. I am alive, standing, walking, eating, reading, writing and enjoying life. That has to count for something, right? I can only attribute these improvements in my health to my Miracle Healing. What I'm about to tell you is going to sound strange if not a tad bit confusing.

My Miracle Healing had nothing to do directly with my mundane healing. The fact is, these human manifestations of physical, mental or emotional healing do not in any way do justice to the power and miracle of this unique and blessed gift I have been allowed to bring back for you.

The Miracle Healing, which you have chosen to accept, gives you a rare opportunity to reunite with that part of you that's been pulled apart and separated from you. It offers you a chance at making whole that part of you that has been misplaced. It is a unique opportunity for you to heal centuries of pain and conflict keeping you from your life's purpose and ultimate success in this blue marble in space-time.

Our current understanding of healing is immature. We are given illness and injury in this life so that we ask for healing. What you receive when you ask for healing is a re-establishing of the wholeness that is you. What you are seeking and what your Miracle Healing promotes is connecting you to your eternal transcendent self, so that you can become a more fully present version of who you really are. In this sense you cannot heal by yourself. This healing comes from your willingness to connect to your eternal transcendent self. Connecting and aligning with your eternal self who existed before you came into this world and will exist forever is the only way to access the power of this elevated understanding of Miracle Healing. You must align with the transcendent you that is one with the Source of all that is or ever will be.

Because what Miracle Healing really does is to align you with the Source of Creation.

Infinite Awareness of Creation

Your entire life on earth is a process in healing who you are. You are given challenges and obstacles that lead you to make choices from which there are always consequences. This gives you the impetus to become more in alignment with your eternal self so that you may understand your lessons in an elevated light. As you do this you become more fully aware of who you are. This is the golden ring, the divine union between you and your transcendent self, which is perfectly and permanently aligned with the Source of all that is. This is the key to embodying the Infinite Awareness of Creation.

The connection to your transcendent self gives you an elevated perspective on your earthly experience. It helps you understand your own situation by providing a more complete awareness of the tests you are currently facing and their extended implications. Everyone is different in how you process this awareness. It gives you a chance to see, hear, know, feel or sense the machinations of the earthly experience with an understanding influenced by the wisdom of the infinite. It is like having access to a multi-dimensional hologram of your life's path. By grabbing that golden ring of the Infinite Awareness of Creation and connecting to your Transcendent Self frequently, you elevate your consciousness. By weighing your decisions using the scales of your eternal perspective against your earthly challenges you make better decisions. Decisions that lead you to more empowering consequences. Consequences that advance you faster and further along your path to the esteemed and elevated life you came here to enjoy. Think of this process as instantly acquiring a pro golf swing. Your ball drives straight and true off the tee farther than it ever has, eliminating time consuming and costly trips into the rough, the water and sand hazards or even, heaven forbid, completely out of bounds. Your golden ring helps keep you on a championship pace. You can also think of your connection to your transcendent self as one of those TV game shows where you can check with an outside source before you answer. Only this outside source is still you, an eternal and elevated version of you. It is a transcendent you that is one with the Source of all that is. Best of all this happens inside you effortlessly, organically. Talk about a win/win scenario!

You begin to see the world through a much clearer lens. Your reliance on separation fades as you rise to a greater, wider and more elevated perspective. You see a bigger part of the whole picture because you have come to possess a more highly elevated consciousness. With continued and regular connection, you come to exhibit the highest levels of action and leadership. The kind of leadership that you and those you love desperately need. This is the kind of leadership that remains serene under pressure and is not overly influenced by the emotion of the moment. The kind of leadership that opens doors to a higher level of creation and expansion. This, of course, makes for a far more joyful and abundant life.

All from giving one glorious moment of your time while going about living your normal life.

Eventually, your golden ring of connection leads to the embodiment of an Infinite Awareness of Creation, which eliminates any possibility of holding a scarcity consciousness because you no longer see the consequences of this world in terms of lack. Only takes a moment. Embodying the Infinite Awareness of Creation allows you to grasp a bigger picture, a more elevated interpretation of your experiences.

Why would you fear loss of income or loss of love or poor health when you know deep in your being that this event is merely a transitional device designed to bring you to a fuller, more complete version of who you are? Why would you fear loss at all once you realize that your path is moving you to an even greater level of success and happiness, to a higher, more elevated station? Why would you fear any test once you know without a doubt that following your the path and facing the tests and difficulties it holds is exactly what the transcendent you wants for you? How can fear exist when your elevated actions are exactly the actions you must take for your accession to the fulfillment of who you are?

As you heal you become more aware of your relationship with creation. The things that gave you concern yesterday will not give you concern today. Fear of lost income, fear of lost love and fear of tragic events yet to come will vanish in the fog of nothingness from which you have created them. Fear of failure, fear of success, fear of authority, fear of mistakes, fear of accidents, fear of war, fear of peace, fear of death, fear of living too long, fear of not living long enough, fear of pain, fear of pleasure, fear of sickness, fear of spiders, high places, confined spaces, your mother in law – fear itself will cease to exist. Because you know as your transcendent self knows that you yourself control all such fears. You have created them and you can make them go away.

This is the nature of the gift of Miracle Healing you have received. You stop seeing scarcity and begin seeing opportunity. You stop feeling despair and begin feeling hope. You stop focusing on separateness and begin embracing unity.

When you encounter difficulties on your path be grateful. Tests and difficulties are given to you as a benefit for your growth. They give you the opportunity to expand yourself. Apparent hardships offer you the chance to create. You are loved and protected at all times and under all conditions. Creativity only occurs when there is limitation. Limitation requires you to be creative. You are given more opportunity to create when you are given limitation because you have to work around the obstacles. This is the very essence of creativity. Several of Van Gough's most valued paintings present a ghostly appearance eliciting a faded or dreamlike quality. They stand in stark contrast to his vibrant work. I find them very compelling. They were painted during a period when he couldn't afford paint, so he got creative with the limitations he was given.

Face the tests and difficulties you encounter in life head on with the inspiration that comes from your transcendent self, and life will make you become the best possible version of yourself. The human experience will require you to become the highest most aligned version of who you are.

Otherwise you will be miserable. You will find an abundance of pain at every turn. This is not a threat because pain is not a punishment. Pain is simply a notice that you are not your path. Much like the voice on your car's automatic guidance system telling you to turn around and return to the designated route as quickly as possible. Pain is telling you to stop what you are doing and align with your transcendent self as quickly as possible. Pain is a blessing.

I am sincerely grateful for all the pain I have received as a result of my stroke because of all it has led me to learn. It has taken away a smoldering misery, which lay hidden beneath a fog of deflection and denial. I have faced my pain and addressed defects I didn't realize I had clearing my being of so much garbage. I am more content today than I have ever been. I know who I am.

You win either way. Pain can lead you to a clear and abundant life if you face your pain and address your defects. Or you can align with your transcendent self and get a little help along the way. Makes the journey so much more fun.

The quickest and surest way to align with your transcendent self is to send a Miracle Healing.

Sending this Miracle Healing is easier than waking to a beautiful spring sunrise. There is no downside to sending your healing message and the upside is infinite in the healing you generate. Because you send this healing message of love you receive back a Miracle Healing multiplied many times over (Universal Law of Multiplication) each and every time you send one. Only takes a moment.

I actually get a rippling, healing vibration surging through my body after I send you a miracle healing. That feeling is wonderfully addicting. Best of all you can have it anytime you want it all day long. Only takes a moment.

Because of the Miracle Healing your consciousness will elevate. Instantly, your elevated consciousness will spread throughout the world. Only takes a moment. People you know, don't know, love and haven't yet learned to love will all be touched with the energy of pure healing. Little by little, they will begin vibrating at a higher rate. They will have their consciousness raised. Just like a vibrating tuning fork touching a non-vibrating tuning fork. Soon the entire world will vibrate at a higher rate.

Heal All By Healing One

This is why you send your Miracle Healing message. Yes, Tom needs it so he can come back and bring you this gift. Yes, the world and all you love need this healing. And yes, you, too, will receive a Miracle Healing. But let there be no mistake this is not the primary reason you send your message back in time and into another universe. The reason you send this message must be to help someone else. This act must be selfless and absolutely cannot be fused to any desire for personal benefit or gain. You do it out of love. You do it because you can. You do it because we are all in this boat together. Because there is no such thing as separation – we are all one.

As a result of this selfless action you elevate your vibrational rate and the vibrational rate of humankind.

Because you have chosen to transverse the artificial bounds of time and space, because you have chosen to demonstrate your acceptance of infinite possibility as an actionable reality – you have expanded the Universe.

Because your gift and your intent are pure, you have connected to the good of all that is. You have connected to your transcendent self, allowing you to make that golden ring of connection, and opening the door to the Infinite Awareness of Creation.

Because making physical world choices in a state of alignment with the eternal is the path to elevating your eternal essence to the highest state of abundance possible in this time-space matrix. It is the path to becoming the elevated and enlightened soul you came here to become. It is the path to becoming the highest version of yourself you can become.

Imagine living a life where the Infinite Abundance of Creation consecrates everything you do, touch, feel, hold or share. Now, that's Rich Beyond Your Wildest Dreams. That's living a life filled with the greatest good imaginable. That's the essence of success and happiness.

This is what is meant by the evolution of your kind and your planet.

This is your Miracle Healing.

Regaining Your Perfection

When you are chosen to come into this world you were perfect. Birth and the process of becoming a functioning member of the human world forced you to forget all that you are because you came here to struggle and grow. From the very beginning of your earthly experience, you have had the desire to possess your individualism. You learned to cry for attention. You learned how to get your own way. You learned how to get the things that served your earthly needs. As you advance to maturity, you take this knowledge and create the earthly life you desire.

You did all this in an immature state. The results are therefore spotty and immature much like the efforts of a teenager. Some of the things you do are elevated; some are not. Of course, you always grow and improve from the experience. The beauty of this gift is the opportunity it offers. It is a chance to make a quantum leap in your maturation.

Until now you have grown incrementally. This was acceptable in past time frames, but we are at a critical juncture on the path of our human experience. The human stew of demands on the earth's resources together with the lopsided materialistic direction of the universal consciousness has brought the situation to a boiling point. At the risk of being labeled an alarmist I must clearly state: Alarms are sounding. Open yourself to them. Step away from the veil of deception and rationalization you have allowed to abridge your consciousness and block your understanding. Alarms are sounding everywhere. Louder than the storm and fire warnings you hear far too often these days. Louder than the declining options on the menu of your favorite seafood restaurant. Louder than the screams of conflict, hate and fear assaulting you daily from every corner of the globe. The alarms are warning you of the need for immediate action. They are trying to wake you out of your spiritual slumber even as you read these words. Eschew your preoccupation and your sole alignment with material wealth, which is at best temporary comfort destined to fade to the nothingness of another past life. This in no way precludes living a rich, happy and successful life. Seek balance. Align your consciousness with the ultimate success and perfectly balanced abundance of the Universe through your transcendent self.

This is how you attract your ultimate hopes and dreams. This is how you succeed in the face of overwhelming opposition and impossible odds. This is how you heal yourself and all you love from centuries of anger, greed and fear.

Remember, if the problem is not having enough, then the solution is incredibly simple:

Connect to your transcendent self and seek an elevated life. Scarcity consciousness cannot exist in a sea of infinite abundance.

We have reached the point of no return. It takes time to turn around the ecology and a culture of scarcity consciousness even with divine assistance. Healing requires organic changes because in this space-time matrix everything happens organically. Ours is a fecund matrix whose very nature depends of the ability to grow and reproduce. This requires a verdant and viable, life sustaining eco-system. For us to have the opportunity to grow and expand we must have a planet that can grow and expand. Unless we take the first steps now, we stand the risk of starting too late.

Time is short.

Scarcity consciousness is your obstacle. It is your challenge. Seize your opportunity to create a world you love to call home.

Once you grab hold of that gold ring of union between your human experience and your transcendent self, the worldwide healing will progress faster than the speed of light because you will heal faster than the speed of light. Improvements that previously may have taken a generation will become practically instantaneous. The hopes and dreams of humanity for millennia will find realization before your eyes. As you continue to grow and elevate you will organically send this radiant living gift of Miracle Healing to those you love and to those you do not yet love and our numbers will grow. More and more humans of all ages, races, cultures, genders, languages, capacities and beliefs from every segment of society will join us on that pier. They will climb from the chaos without knowing why. They will join us in sending their healing message of love to help another. Eventually, the storms of scarcity consciousness will subside and a more universally just and loving world will grow in its stead. Only then can you and all that you love live in a state of peace and create the thriving, joyous life you came here to enjoy.

The happy and bountiful life you dream of having cannot be bought, sold, demanded, decreed, manipulated, negotiated nor forced in any way. You cannot make it happen. You must receive and allow. Your happy and bountiful life is given to you. It is a gift and a birthright of the human experience. The anxiety and conflict inherent in scarcity consciousness pushes this cherished prize away. Your hopes and dreams can flourish only in a state of peace, love and acceptance. To live the rich life you came here to live, seek peace and love above all else. Your ultimate success depends on having peace in you personal life and peace in the lives of all your brothers and sisters throughout the world. There is no such thing as separation. It is a delusion of an immature consciousness. There are no they and we. There are no good guys and bad guys. There are no winners and losers. We are one. Your difficult neighbors are simply another side of you. We are one. What happens in Africa or Columbia or the Middle East happens to you. When they bleed you bleed. We are one. The effects of hunger, hatred and war do not stop at county lines, border crossing or oceans. We are one. They affect your consciousness as surely as 9/11 affected the world consciousness.

The deleterious effects of scarcity consciousness hinder your well being regardless of where, when or to whom they occur. It diminishes your birthright. When fear of not having enough holds you back your growth and advancement is retarded. It brings you less certainly not more; it prevents you from living the bounteous life you deserve to live. The life you asked to live.

You can grow and change here. You cannot do that in the next life. You can expand your consciousness and create here. You cannot do that in the next life. Here you can grow and expand yourself and the Universe as you know it. You can become the whole and complete essence of being your soul sought in coming here. This is the starstudded golden ring of all that can be desired.

Imagine this! You can actually change reality. You can cause the entire universe to grow and expand to a degree that would have been thought impossible only moments before. On a moonless night on a dark mountain highway I created a real life impossibility. I created a living breathing Jackalope.

What will you create?

I have been telling you forever that you came here to learn and grow, but that's not the whole story. You came her to expand the Universe. Because as you grow and expand so does the Universe. So do all your fellow travelers on this speck of matterbased possibility. You did not come for the transitory goals and desires of this training ground, this temporal anomaly. That is just the game we all play to reach that top prize, that gold ring of divine union. You came for the opportunity to play and grow. What you ultimately desire is the strength, the power, the infinite grace, beauty and glory of the wholeness of being.

The gift this book offers you is far beyond the bounds of your current human experience. Once you cross that threshold of our time-space matrix back on March 28, 2009 and enter the Court of the Presence of the Generous One in my nanoseconds of dire need, your message will instantly be granted the power of Miracle Healing. You will become a Miracle Healer. Your particular manifestation of this station depends on your path. Maybe you will initiate Miracle Healing among traders on Wall Street. Or along the corridors of power in your government. Or among your family and friends. Or in the backwaters of the Nile or the Huang He. Maybe it will lead to more peaceful and loving business practices. Maybe it will lead to halting the mass destruction of our environment. Maybe it will lead to a union and a new child being born who is needed now. More likely, you'll never know where your Miracle Healing leads. You have no way of knowing what your ultimate path is or where it will take you. Let alone someone else's.

This is the adventure of life on earth. This is the joy of life in this precious transformational playground. Wherever it takes you, rest assured that your path leads to the answer to that most important and all-important question, the question that unlocks and endows your life with the Infinite Awareness of Creation.

Who am I?

CHAPTER 21

The Rest Of The Story

Now that you have sent me your gift of Miracle Healing I can tell you a little about my stay in Acute Recovery. I couldn't tell you about my stay before this. I tried several times to no avail. The words just wouldn't flow. When I tried to force them they came out all wrong, sad and angry. I had to wait until I had written the chapter telling you how to send your healing gift into another dimension and back into a different time frame.

Since we live in a time-space continuum there is no flow of time. Time is permanently tied to the function of space. We are not a thousand years removed from the Crusades; we are simply more mature, more elevated and living in a more enlightened time-space. The fact that you can go backwards in time to correct pain from your own past or to send a healing message to me in the early morning hours of March 29, 2009 is a testament to this space-time effect. It is a testament to the construct of the world in which we live. This is very important to remember if you want to gain any significant degree of mastery over your human experience.

A further extension of our space-time matrix applies to this book I am currently writing and you are currently reading. It exists in published form for you to buy and read the instant I finish writing it. Energy-wise, there is little difference between the time frame in which I have a finished manuscript and the one where you are reading these pages in book format. Each chapter I finish makes the eventuality of a finished book more real, more certain I will produce a finished manuscript and that manuscript will be published. This makes the energy of each chapter more powerful and more potent in your present time frame. I know it sounds a little counter to the reality we meet every single day of our lives. That quantum reality, time-space matrix thing takes some getting used to.

You've already proven your continued healing prowess. I'm much stronger today than when I started writing three years ago. In fact, after I finished the Deliverance chapter my healing jumped tenfold. I was able to face one of the more arduous challenges of my life. It was the part of my recovery, which ultimately allowed me to bring my efforts in writing this book to a conclusion. Completing what you start is always the hardest part. It is the manifestation of your vision. The more ambitious and elevated your vision the more difficult the conclusion. Which is why it may have been difficult for you to take one tiny moment to send your healing back to me. Not because the action itself was trying, but because you were bringing your efforts to a conclusion.

All I'm saying is keep an open mind. You can do this. You can heal so much more than me. I've seen the storm calm and the waters recede.

I hope you will take from this book the tools and encouragement to elevate your consciousness and thereby your personal power. Lift yourself above the mundane physical reality demanding your attention and create a Miracle Healing. Only takes a moment. Eschew the common wisdom of your day, expand and enrich the Universe in a positive way for yourself and for all of humankind.

Taking time out from your busy day to call the Arc of Light into your life is fantastically healing on both spiritual and mundane levels as we have shown. The mundane healing of allowing your body a spiritual refresher alone is worth the time.

Meditating has shown to lower your chances of high blood pressure, high blood sugar and a bevy of other purely awful physical problems. I wish I had welcomed the calming effects of inviting the Arc into my life before my stroke because the Arc increases this meditating effect at least a trillion fold.

Back to the energy of completion and how it works. I had to write the previous chapters before telling you about my stay in Acute Rehab because I couldn't have had a recovery until I had received your gift of Miracle Healing. And you couldn't send your gift until I'd written the chapters telling you how and why to send it. I know it doesn't seem to make a lot of sense, because obviously I did have a stay in Acute Rehab or I couldn't be here writing about it. That's the problem with a quantum reality. When the cause comes after the effect, it flies in the face of common wisdom.

A Ming Vase

It's exactly the same as my Living Videos. I couldn't see the end of my children's journey. I couldn't see my wife's life to the end. I couldn't see the gift I was holding up to calm the terrible storm, which was destroying everything I loved. It was not that I wasn't allowed to see it. It was simpler than that. It was not possible for me to see those things because the cause that affected and forged those events had not yet occurred. The kids had not faced their challenges, chosen and grown from the consequences of their action. Diane had not faced, chosen and grown from hers. I had not made a final decision to go on or to stay. Even though I could see part of the future I could only see so far because the future is not set until you create it. The Universe that held those futures, the kids, Diane's and mine, had not been created yet. The beautiful gift I held up, we held up, against the storms of separation, fear and anger, didn't exist, couldn't exist until I decided to stay in this temporal matrix and write this book. Then only as the manuscript reached completion could it become the brilliantly gleaming divine gift, which inspired us to quiet the raging storms of scarcity consciousness. Think of it as a video of a gorgeous Ming vase at the beginning of movie, fading up from complete darkness and shining brighter and more distinct until the fade up is complete and the movie begins.

This also means that the healing effect of your gift is affecting the world as a whole already as the manuscript nears completion. Even though you have not read a single word.

There must always be a cause before there can be an effect. Even if the cause comes after the effect. I know it sounds just a little bit convoluted, but it is absolutely, positively, one hundred percent true.

Toilet Seat Covers

After I'd written Quantum Selling, I went back to the Monroe Institute in Virginia. That's where Robert Monroe trained the remote viewers for the U.S. Army Stargate Project back in the last part of the 20th century. Today they teach a variety of seminars to folks like you and me using his methods. In case you aren't familiar with remote viewing or the Stargate Project, they were psychic spies. Remote viewers would lay on a couch in an Army base in Virginia, and using only the power of their minds "remote view" a specific target anywhere in the world. The absolute best intelligence the U.S. received during the first Gulf War came from remote viewers. It was so good, eventually knowledge of this top-secret project leaked out. The media became aware that Congress was using psychic spies. It made for great TV, but not good politics. The idea that Congress was using public money, "taxpayers' hard earned dollars," on something as seemingly ungodly, heretical and just down right controversial as psychic spies doesn't play well among many voters. Congress did the only politically correct thing they could do. They immediately stopped funding the project, disbanded the remote viewers and publicly condemned the whole affair as an abomination to all God fearing folk. To this day, both Congress and the Army refuse to admit publically there ever was a Stargate Project. Of course, the project was so successful that they simply renamed it, hired and trained new remote viewers and buried the cost in that huge military budget, probably under toilet seat covers.

I went to the Monroe Institute to see if I could pick up anything I could use in Quantum Selling. Now, theirs is obviously a good program and it works, but I felt it was a little behind the curve, at least, for my purposes. It is over thirty years old. The one thing I did gain was that the viewers needed to see the follow-up or feedback at the conclusion of the event they viewed. They needed to see pictures of whatever they had viewed after their intelligence was acted upon. If they viewed missile sites they needed to see the video the bombers made when the bombs were dropped. Because the remote viewers were actually viewing the pictures they were shown afterward, not the place itself. They still viewed the future, but it was a future that had already been created. They viewed the effect of the cause they were helping to create.

The bottom line is, we live in a cause and effect quantum reality. The laws of our time-space matrix are absolute. Once again, because heaven forbid you forget:

There must always be a cause before there can be an effect. Even if the cause comes after the effect.

You probably thought you were picking up a book of light reading about how pretty it is in the next life. Maybe confirm your own preconceived notions about heaven, which by the way are probably true. Your thoughts are expanding the Universe daily. You can have anything you want in this life. Why not have the next worlds be of your choosing, too? When I started this project I thought I was writing a book about the pretty things I saw. At least, my conscious mind thought that. Deep down somewhere inside the hidden caverns of my subconscious I think I knew this book opened doors to possibility most, including me, had not seriously considered. That's probably why I tried to avoid writing it. I never considered the extent to which this book was about the unexplored mysteries of our short and exciting life here in this wonderfully precious transformational playground we call earth.

I am, however, constantly drawn to new doors in want of opening. Being the curious guy that I am, I open them. What am I to do? They call to me. You can understand that, can't you? You were drawn to this book. You opened it and now here you are, considering things that would have earned you a trip to a funny farm or at least a visit to a shrink in a bygone era. Of course, as you well know by now, there is no such thing as time. You live in a time-space continuum and that distinction has a very powerful effect on your day-to-day life. This powerful effect creates an opportunity for unimaginable abundance.

This is all so exciting. Just think about the power you hold in your mind right now. Go ahead flex your power. Close your eyes and imagine Tom in the Presence of the Generous One and create another healing message of pure love right now. Only takes a moment. It'll come right back to you, multiplied many times over.

Lesson Seven

Deeping Questions & Workbook

Lesson Seven

Your Miracle Healing

Chapters 20 - 21

Questions:

 Our understanding of healing is immature, yet it is our problems that lead us to desire healing. What in your body, emotions, or life needs healing? Write a list of problems. Close your eyes, quiet your mind and send a healing message to someone else. Feel yourself enveloped in the Rainbow of Miracle Healing flowing back to you, multiplied. Feel the healing colors suffusing your body and mind, healing everything that needs healing in your life. 2. In your last Lesson, you envisioned your connection with all of humanity. The most impactful way to feel connected is to send healing out into the world. Whenever you send healing, do not allow yourself to be pulled into someone else's need for healing on a spiritual level. Do not take on their problems. This situation does not belong to you; you are simply sending healing energy. Think of someone you know who needs a healing. Close your eyes and visualize the rainbow of Miracle Healing you sent to Tom. Then send healing to that person. You say your prayer or using a meditation say silently or better still aloud: "Heal! Heal! Heal!" Record your experience.

3. This is for a person who needs healing. If you do not personally know anyone in that situation now, think of a person you've read about or seen on television. Send healing to that person. Don't worry about leaving someone out; you heal everyone by healing one. 4. Think of a painful situation in the life of someone you know, or in the world.
You are not responsible for fixing those kinds of situations, but your healing input absolutely will contribute to transforming painful events everywhere.
Send healing energy into that situation.

5. Remember the principle of Quantum Reality, that time is simply an illusion – a concept we have created to organize our idea of reality. You can actually send healing "back in time" to a situation that has already occurred. Think of someone you cared for who was ill, or in emotional or physical pain. That person may have actually passed on. You felt impotent, unable to help. Now that you know how, you can send healing back into that situation. On a spiritual level, this can heal your own unhappiness about the situation. You heal by providing comfort and healing to the person involved, even after death. We are all connected, whether we are currently here on earth or on the other side. Send a healing to someone you know in the past or into the next life.

6. When you send these healing messages you receive a Miracle Healing back. This is the surest and quickest way to align with your Transcendent Self. By living your life in this alignment you access the Infinite Abundance of Creation, which opens the door to a rich, powerful and happy life. At the same time you do your part in healing the terrible scourge of scarcity consciousness. Does that make you feel strong, resourceful and powerful?
